Queridos feligreses:

Hoy, se nos presenta para nuestra consideración una "famosa" afirmación de Jesucristo: «Lo del César devolvédsele al César, y lo de Dios a Dios» (Mt 22,21).

No entenderíamos bien esta frase sin tener en cuenta el contexto en el que Jesús la pronuncia: «los fariseos se fueron y celebraron consejo sobre la forma de sorprenderle en alguna palabra» (Mt 22,15), y Jesús advirtió su malicia (cf. v. 18). Así, pues, la respuesta de Jesús está calculada. Al escucharla, los fariseos quedaron sorprendidos, no se la esperaban. Si claramente hubiese ido en contra del César, le habrían podido denunciar; si hubiese ido claramente a favor de pagar el tributo al César, habrían marchado satisfechos de su astucia. Pero Jesucristo, sin hablar en contra del César, lo ha relativizado: hay que dar a Dios lo que es de Dios, y Dios es Señor incluso de los poderes de este mundo.

El César, como todo gobernante, no puede ejercer un poder arbitrario, porque su poder le es dado en "prenda" o garantía; como los siervos de la parábola de los talentos, que han de responder ante el Señor por el uso de los talentos. En el Evangelio de san Juan, Jesús dice a Pilatos: «No tendrías contra mí ningún poder, si no se te hubiera dado de arriba» (Jn 19,10). Jesús no quiere presentarse como un agitador político. Sencillamente, pone las cosas en su lugar.

Hermanos y hermanas, estamos agradecidos con el Señor por el don del Espíritu Santo sobre los hombres y mujeres jóvenes de nuestra parroquia; también quiero invitarlo a considerar dar su tiempo, talento y tesoro a Dios en esta parroquia, también para ayudar durante esta Campaña Católica Anual, "Una Familia ... Caminando Juntos en la Fe, para ayudar a la Diócesis a cubrir gastos de la evangelización para todos.

Nuestra Señora de la Paz, ruega por nosotros.

En Cristo, Padre Andrés

Dear Parishioners:

Today, the Gospel presents to our consideration a “famous” assertion from Jesus Christ: «Return to Caesar what is Caesar's, and to God what is God's» (Mt 22:21).

We would not be able to properly grasp the meaning of this sentence without bearing in mind the context which Jesus said it into: «The Pharisees went out and took counsel on how they could trap Jesus with his own words» (Mt 22:15) but «Jesus understood their evil intent» (v. 18). Thus, Jesus reply is a calculated one. When they heard it, the Pharisees were surprised, as they did not expect it. If Jesus' answer would have clearly been against Caesar, they might had been able to denounce him; if, on the contrary, Jesus had been in favor of paying the taxes to Caesar, they would have left very pleased with their ruse. But, while not speaking against Caesar, Jesus has relativized his reply: we must return to God what is God's, and God is the Lord of even the powers of this world.

As every other ruler, Caesar cannot exert an arbitrary power, because his power has been left to him in warrant; as the servants of the parable of the talents, that had to account to their Master for the use given to his money. In St. John's Gospel, Jesus tells Pilatus: «You would have no power over me if it had not been given to you from above» (Jn 19:10). Jesus does not want to appear as a political agitator. He simply put things right.

Brothers and sisters, we are grateful with the Lord for the gift of the Holy Spirit upon the young men and women from our parish; also I want to invite you to consider giving of your time, talent and treasure to God in this your parish, also to help during this Annual Catholic Appeal, "One Family...Walking Together in Faith, to help the Diocese to cover evangelization for all.

Our Lady of Peace pray for us.

In Christ, Fr Andrés
